Criminal Misc. Petition No. 212 of 2002

Hon'ble Irshad Hussain, J.

Sri Nagesh Agrawal for the applicant, A.G.A and Sri Pankaj Purohit for respondent no.2.

The learned counsel for the parties state the dispute related to payment of money, which according to the directions of the court has been paid to the complainant together with interest. In fact, according to them there remains no dispute between the parties and they will file a formal compromise before the learned Magistrate and in view thereof they want that the present petition may be dismissed as not pressed. The petition is dismissed accordingly.

The petitioner shall not, however, be arrested in pursuance of the warrant issued against him and he will put in appearance to file the compromise before the Magistrate concerned.
